First Day at Fair Largely Attended

The first day of the Montgomery County Fair which began a four day meeting yesterday, was attended by a record-breaking crowd. The program was a splendid one and the races, both harness and running, were close and exciting. The music was splendid and the crowd was well pleased with the program. The midway is being largely attended and is said to be one of the biggest and cleanest ever in Mt. Sterling. The pari-mutuel machines and auction pools received a good play on the opening day and the sporting crowd certainly got a run for their money.

Clerk Wins the Derby

The Mt. Sterling Derby was won by Clerk, owned by J. M. Hubbard, defeating the favorite Dehnbah 2nd and paying $10.00 to a $2.00 ticket in the mutuels. Dehnbah finished second and Jellison third.

The first race at six furlongs was a walk-away for the favorite, Lady Luxury.

The 2:30 trot was won by Bessie Brooks in straight heats after losing the first two. She is owned by Bean Brothers, of this city, and is a good gaired mare. Peter Patchen, owned by A. B. Setters, was the winner of the first two heats, and probably showed more speed than any of the bunch.

In the 2:14 pace Dora Dean won in straight heats defeating the Bean Brothers' favorite, Miss Rhythmic Belle, although it was the consensus of opinion that she had more speed than any of the other contenders, and her finish in the third heat when she came from last and lost by only a nose, showed something of her real class.

The program for the remainder of the week is a most excellent one and some of the most exciting races ever witnessed in this section are anticipated for each day. Some of the best horse flesh in the country is here and the various owners and trainers are doing their best to win every race.

TO PLAY HUSTLERS

The Mt. Sterling baseball team will go to Winchester Sunday where they will cross bats with the Winchester Hustlers. The local boys defeated the Winchester Regulars last Sunday and expect to administer a like dose to the Hustlers the coming Sunday.

Of course, we don't claim to be much of a vegetarian, but it has never seemed to us that there is much pep in snap beans.

21 Per Cent Increase Given Railway Men

Six hundred million dollars was added to the pay envelopes of the nation's 2,000,000-railroad workers in the first award handed down by the new United States Railway Labor Board.

Rejecting the demands of the organized rail unions for increases totaling approximately $1,000,000,000 the board decided approximately 60 per cent of that sum would be a just increase to meet present living conditions.

The award adds approximately 21 per cent to the present pay schedules. Railroad officials have declared that any pay increase awarded the men must be followed by a corresponding increase in freight rates, and they plan, it is said, to file new tariffs with the Interstate Commerce Commission as soon as they can be prepared asking for an increase in all freight rates of approximately 18 per cent. Passenger and express rates will also be increased.

Whether the award as given will stave off the threat of a general railroad strike remains to be seen. The leaders of practically every one of the sixteen big railroad unions were present when Judge R. M. Burton, chairman of the board, handed down the decision. They left immediately to present the award to 1,000 general chairmen, who had gathered to pass on its acceptability. The union presidents refused to make any comment before the meeting. The approximate terms of the decision had been known to them and they believed then their men would stay in line, at least until a referendum vote can be taken. Nearly a month will be needed for the referendum.

The board's decision is retroactive to May 1. As the maximum increase granted any class was 18 cents an hour, or $36.72 per month, the biggest pay check due when the back pay settlement is made August 1 will be for $110.16. Engineers, firemen and helpers in the yard service will receive this amount. The board provides that the back pay checks shall be made out separately so that each man will know the amount he received from that source.

We have this deliverance from Governor Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, and it is absolutely correct—Efficiency for appointment to government positions must be the test and women and men alike must be graded according to their efficiency.

Curry Duty Marries Winchester Girl

His many friends in this city will learn with interest of Curry Duty's marriage to Miss Katherine McCord, a lovely Winchester girl. The wedding took place very quietly in Louisville Tuesday night, only the witnesses being present at the ceremony and the young couple leaving immediately after for Michigan where they will spend their honeymoon.

Mr. Duty was born and reared in this city and is the son of Mrs. Lillian Curry Duty and the late Charles Duty. He is a successful young business man, holding a responsible position with the Lampton-Crane Ramey Co., with headquarters in Knoxville, Tenn. His bride is the daughter of Charles B. McCord, of Winchester, and is a great favorite in Blue Grass social circles. Mr. and Mrs. Duty will be at home after August 1st in the Parthenia apartments in Knoxville.

Mrs. Judy Breaks Hip

Mrs. Fanny Judy, one of this city's oldest citizens, sustained a most peculiar injury yesterday. She is 84 years old, lives alone and had gone to her garden to gather vegetables, and having finished she was walking to the house when she gave way in one of her limbs and sank to the ground. Her calls were answered by her neighbors who hastened to her assistance and found her down with a broken hip bone. Mrs. Judy is sure she did not sustain the injury when she fell and that the bone broke from her weight. She was a sufferer from rheumatism and thinks the bone was diseased and gave way. Her condition is critical and relatives and friends are fearful her vitality is not sufficient to withstand the shock.

Boy Kicked By Horse

The eleven year old son of Haydon Reynolds, of near Camargo, was kicked by a horse yesterday while at work and sustained a broken leg as a result. The fracture is a severe one, both bones below the knee being broken. The horse, a very vicious one, kicked the boy's brother a few years ago, inflicting injuries which some months later caused his death.

G. H. May is here from Akron, O. From here Mr. May goes to Salyersville to visit his father's family. Mr. May will return to Akron after a few day's visit in Magoffin. We are expecting to hear from Mr. May soon in regard to a new business he and his brother propose to start.

Miss Cooper and Mr. Bogie To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clay Cooper announce the engagement of their daughter, Emma Petry, to Mr. Joseph Chenualt Bogie, son of the late James S. and Mrs. Bogie. The marriage will take place Wednesday, July 28th, at the home of the bride's parents, attended only by immediate relatives, on account of illness in both families. The honeymoon will be spent as the guests of Mr. and Webster P. Huntington at "Seven Gables," their summer home on South Bass Island, Lake Erie.

A. B. Oldham, of this city, and William Oldham, of Nicholasville, left yesterday for the North and East where they will attend markets, making extensive purchases of fall and winter goods for their Mt. Sterling and Nicholasville stores. The Messrs. Oldham will be away about two weeks.

The Advocate's First Printer Here on Visit

Col. T. M. Morrow, of Winchester, was here this week and honored us with a call. Nothing can be said of this good man but what would be creditable to any man worth while. Twenty-nine years ago The Advocate cast her fortunes with the people and Tom Morrow was here with an up-to-date printery and gave valuable assistance in getting out the first issue. So it follows by deduction, that whatever we have been, for weel or woe, Tom Morrow has been an accessory, a partner with us in our best efforts. Mr. Morrow is yet in the printing business and whatever he does is in up-to-date artistic style.

Mt. Sterling Couple Marry in Lexington

Miss Mary Devine and Edward Dunn, well known couple of this city, took their friends by surprise and were married in Lexington yesterday by the Rev. I. J. Spencer. The bride is a daughter of the late Neal Devine, and is one of this city's most popular business women, having for some time been employed by the Mt. Sterling Grocery Company. She has a wide circle of friends who will learn of her marriage with keenest interest. Mr. Dunn is a successful contractor and occupies a prominent place in Mt. Sterling's business world. The couple, after a short honeymoon trip will return to this city to make their home.

Will Return to the Democratic Column

Senator J. C. W. Beckham will at an early date hold a conference with Gov. James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for the presidency, with the view of naming a State Campaign Chairman. Both the names of Congressman Alben W. Barkley, of Paducah, and J. Campbell Conrill, of Georgetown, are being considered and with this question settled every honorable effort will be made to not only return Kentucky to the Democratic column, but to bring her back to the old time majority. The Democratic votes are here and with Democratic forces united we can see nothing less than an old time majority.

The Wise Guy who remarked that modesty is the best policy, didn't say it was the best paying policy, although he might have.

Good Run of Cattle For July Courtday

There were about 3,500 to 4,000 head of cattle here Courtday, of a little better quality than a month ago. Prices were about the same as June court, but the demand was much heavier. Heifers brought from 7 1-2 to 10 cents; steers from 8 to 9 1-2 cents; fat cows 8 1-2 cents; canner cows 4 cents; bulls 7 to 8 cents.

Trade was brisker than in many months, buyers seeming very eager to secure the stock, and scales were kept busy and many sales were also made by the head. Pens were cleaned out by night. Some of the best sales reported are: Ed. Lawrence sold to Waller Sharp 17 heifers at 8 cents; Chas. Sullivan bought from Mile Wilson 18 head of heifers at 7 1-2 cents; William Davis sold to A. S. Hart several 800 pound steers at 10 cents; Waller Sharp bought from Ed Lawrence 3 steers, weight 1100 pounds, at 11 1-2 cents; T. Deboard sold to James W. House 3 bulls, 1500 pounds, at 7 cents, and 14 steers, about 415 pounds average weight, at 8 cents; George Halsey sold to Cas P. Goff, of Clark county, 6 bulls, 850 pounds weight, at 7 cents; Sam Keeton sold to Sharp, Bettis & Sharp 7 steers, 550 pounds each, at 8 cents; Joe Allen sold to Sharp, Bettis & Sharp 14 heifers, about 450 pounds each, at 7 3-4 cents; J. Swango sold to R. Pieratt 9 500-pound steers at 7 3-4 cents; Waller Shront bought from Ed. Trimble several 500 pound heifers at 7 y-2 cents. Many other sales were made at about the same prices.

There were a number of buyers on the market for saddle horses and other horse stock, and anything that was good sold readily. Tom Cannan sold a nice saddle horse to Robert Montjoy for $175. George Mays sold to Webb Brothers, of Johnson county, 2 fancy saddle horses, one at $275 and one at $325. Both were good ones. There was a light run of mules and the quality was very inferior, not any good ones being seen. Some few sales were made at around $550 each.

PANGBURN POST DANCE

GRAHAM VREELAND DIES

On Thursday afternoon at Norton Infirmary, Graham Vreeland, one of the owners and publishers of the State Journal, Frankfort, and owner of the C. T. Dearing Printing Co., Louisville, since shortly after the death of Mr. Dearing passed the divide. Mr. Vreeland was 49 years old and leaves a widow, formerly Miss Ann Grimmer, and two daughters, Misses Annabelle, 18, and Miss Margaret, 16, an aged mother and two brothers, Rev. Walter Vreeland and Hubert Vreeland, editor of the Farmer's Home Journal. Burial services were held at Frankfort and interment was in the the Frankfort cemetery, Friday. We have known Mr. Vreeland intimately since 1906, much of the time from 1906, to June, 1910. He was one of the State's printing contractors. While the writer was State Superintendent of Printing we knew him as a most agreeable and competent business man, and whatever he contracted to do, whether big or small jobs, the work was executed according to specifications and on time.

Active in politics, he was numbered among those who never slept on assigned duties. In business circles, Graham Vreeland will be greatly missed and the vacancy in the political arena will be difficult to fill.

THE GUIDING OF IMAGINATION.

By Anne Goodwin Williams, National Kindergarten and Elementary College.

"When my boy was only four years old, I began to punish him every time he told a lie. It took great persistence to cure him, but now he is the most truthful child you ever knew. You can depend upon his word every time." The father spoke with great pride, ignorant that the merry little lad next door who was the companion of his own sullen boy had also passed through three years of "romancing" but with no punishment for lying and consequently no unhappy memories to carry into later life.

Every little child passes through a mental stage when he finds it difficult if not impossible to distinguish between memory and imagination.

Five year old Harold spent a very happy day with little Jack whose mother had so tamed a squirrel that it came to the window and ate from the children's hands. "Wouldn't it be fun if it would come into the room and play with us?" "Yes, and get into the doll's bed and sit in a chair and eat from a table." Each child made his contribution to the delightful romance. Two or three weeks later something was said in Harold's presence about squirrels, and immediately there came to his mind all the memories of Jack's squirrel. Memory and imagination became confused so that the little lad thought he was telling the truth when he told of the squirrel which had eaten from his hand, slept in a doll's bed and sat in a chair and he naturally resented as an injustice the punishment which followed.

"What is truth?" four year old Margaret asked earnestly of a loving friend who rebuked her for not telling the truth. The friend, by definite illustration, helped her to understand the difference between the fact and imagination, and for several weeks the child's stories were followed by the question, "Was I telling the truth that time?" Finally she was able to distinguish the difference and her imaginative stories were introduced by, "This isn't true but—" "Once upon a time, etc." So she lived in her make-believe world joyously increasing a very valuable mental power, yet being saved the reproof and punishment too often meted out to children who are not understood.

Miss Elizabeth Harrison in her book, "Misunderstood Children" tells of a little girl who prayed in her own simple, childlike way that the wonderful gift of imagination might be taken from her because of the scorn and ridicule with which the teacher of geography treated her attempt to picture Arabia, about which she was studying, instead of merely bounding the country. "Please, God, help me not to see people and animals in Arabia instead of an old map on the wall," she prayed.

Fortunately that little girl's prayer was not answered and her imagination developed and was so guided and controlled by a wise and understanding mother that when the child grew to womanhood she was able to use that imagination to write stories which have brought joy to thousands of little children.

The world of imagination is really the kingdom of the little child in which he lives with the companies we adults choose for him. Let us help him by telling him of the great heroes of literature and literature, and cease to acquaint him with the cruel villains and coarse buffoons of the movies and the newspaper headlines. During their early impressionable years, children are influenced more by their imaginary companions than by the actual children with whom they come in contact.

"Let's pretend," the imaginative child says over and over again. "Yes, let's pretend," the wise mother answers, and jokingly may add, "Let's pretend that we are fairies and that all the specks of dust are wild animals for us to chase."

Let us pretend and pretend with the children, and be thankful with reverent, humble gratitude when we as grown men and women are allowed to re-enter the wonderland of childhood, living with the little people and guiding them in their use of their very great gift of imagination.

GET ANOTHER 4,000 MILES OUT OF YOUR OLD TIRE

It may look about like the one to the left. When this tire came to our shop the tread was mostly gone, but the fabric was still sound.

A tire without a tread is only worth the price of old rubber—the junk man usually gets them. But when we build on a genuine Dry Cure tread it's worth—well, you know what a good tire is selling for today. On the right is the same casing after being retreaded by our experts. This tire is now in condition to give 4,000 additional miles of service. It will pay you mighty well to get your tires retreaded—RIGHT. Bring them over today.

THE RAINY DAY BOX

It came at Christmas—a Rainy Day Box—addressed to the mother of two energetic children who were blessed with the full quota of initiative usually attributed to wholesome, happy children of from five to ten years of age and who were frequently in disgrace owing to misapplied energy.

On the outside of the box was written the words, "To be opened on the FIRST RAINY DAY."

For a time the interest of the family was centered in the desire for a raging storm so that there might be no question about the moral right to open Mother's strange gift. At last the day came when there could be no question as to the weather conditions and the box was opened with joyous ceremony. Six neatly wrapped parcels came to light when the cover was removed, each one sealed and numbered.

A card was also enclosed upon which was written the statement: "Parcel No. 1 to be used on the FIRST RAINY DAY, No. 2 on the SECOND RAINY DAY, etc., the BOX with the rest of the parcels to be put away safely until needed."

Upon opening the parcels on successive rainy days, the children discovered that each contained simple, inexpensive things but in each instance materials which furnished opportunity for self expression, which would give legitimate outlet for stored-up energy.

In the first parcel—two pairs of blunt scissors; a pad of coarse paper; a dozen pictures selected from magazines or newspapers, to be used as cut-outs; in this way suggesting a source of unlimited material.

In successive parcels—two tubes of paste and a package of papers of varied shapes and colors.

No. 3. Two clay pipes and a small cake of soap.

No. 4. One pound of plusticene for modeling.

No. 5. Two boxes of wax crayons; a pad of drawing paper, pictures to color, landscapes, dolls, doll dresses and animals.

No. 6. Several metal-tipped strings and two boxes of large glass beads differing in form and color.

Many other suggestive play materials could be included in such a box, always keeping in mind the number of children in the family, their respective ages and natural interests. Any mother would welcome such a gift as she plans occupation for a convalescent child, or as she looks ahead to the summer vacation. Better still, the children might do the collecting of their materials and either make a gift of a Rainy Day Box to some little friend or make one in the winter time and not open it until the long summer vacation has arrived. Children might be able to assemble such a Mystery Box from their own home material if it is not possible to secure it in any other way. It's worthy trying.

SPRAY USED NOW WILL HELP SAVE APPLES

The codling-moth which produces the worm found in apples in the fall and winter will be destroyed if the farmer will spray the orchard immediately before the second brood of the moth is formed. The College of Agriculture recommends this spray made of 11-2 pounds of powdered arsenate of lead to fifty gallons of either bordeaux mixture or lime sulphur solution. Bordeaux is preferable and the spray should not be neglected if the apples are to be free from worms in the winter.

LARGE SUMS FOR

ROADS IN STATE

Washington, D. C.—C. F. Marvin, assistant secretary of agriculture, announces that the sum of $1,051,755.43 has been apportioned to the state of Kentucky as federal aid to be used in the construction of highways during the year which begins today.

The money is apportioned with the distinct understanding that either the state or the local communities to be benefited shall raise $1 for every $1 the government furnishes. Under this basis of apportionment at least $3,903,510.86 will be made available for road work in Kentucky as a result of this federal aid during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1920, and ending June 30, 1921.

The amount of the federal funds made available comes from the separate acts of Congress, one approved July 11, 1916, and the other approved February 28, 1919. The for-use in the construction of rural post roads in the United States during the fiscal year 1921. Before making the apportionment to the several states the acting secretary of agriculture deducted $3,000,000 or 3 per cent. as the estimated cost of administering the two acts.

Ride on Goodyear Tires in That Sturdy Small Car of Yours

It surprises certain users of small cars to find that they can obtain Goodyear Tires at a first cost ordinarily not greater, and sometimes less, than that of other tires.

This initial value, as well as the very low final cost, results from the application of Goodyear experience and care to their manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to 30x3-, 30 x 3 1/2- and 31 x 4-inch sizes.

Such facts explain why more cars, using these sizes, were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

If you drive a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, or Dort take advantage of the opportunity to enjoy real Goodyear value and economy; equip your car with Goodyear Tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes at the nearest Service Station.

A PERSONAL WORD TO EVERY MAN AND WOMAN

Have you systematized your work, whether that work is in office, shop, store, the kitchen or out in the field? Have you systematized it, not particularly because there's money in it, but to save yourself extra work—tired hands and tired feet? Put your personal routine doings in the home, the store and the field under a system that you have thought out hard, and you'll have more time for recreation, for reading and for loafing. We use the word advisedly, because for the man who attends to his life's work efficiently, loafing is a good thing.

The United States Bulletin tells of the secretary of a great trust company who was having a fierce time with his feet. Came home every night with feet so tired and aching they had to be put through the hot-water bath relief every night. Before he was through the day's work, they hurt, sometimes even in the morning. Those aches did his task no good. He wasn't a pleasant office companion. He couldn't help thinking of those feet and while thinking of them, he didn't think efficiently on the task at home.

One day, an efficiency engineer looked over the trust company's office. After inspection, he walked in on the secretary himself and said:

"You are spending too much time walking back and forth from your office to the president's office. It seems to me that you could employ an office messenger, and so save about two and a half hours of your time, about a mile and a half of inside walking, and I believe that you would be a more agreeable man to work with. Two and a half hours of your time—work about eight times that of a messenger's full day, and all that you are doing is to carry papers to and fro, about which you have almost nothing to discuss." We can't all employ messengers—but we can all lay out our work in a system and save our feet.

WHAT WE HAVE SAID

What we have said we repeat now, that we stand for what we consider the best interests of the people. Others may differ, and for an hour or so, we may not fall out. If these good people become offended at us we cannot help it and will continue to use our best efforts in the interest of the great mass of people. However we are never closed to conviction. Arguments more convincing than what we have to offer would change our mind. We are ever ready to discuss any and all questions of which we may be informed, and be sure, what we will offer will be as a logical argument, free from malice or epithetical terms. Our people deserve the best and for that we stand and contend.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT

A tobacco crop of approximately 437,500,000 pounds, and a reduced wheat crop of about 6,275,000 bushels, are the features of the joint Government and State crop report for Kentucky issued at Frankfort and Louisville by Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hamant and H. F. Bryant, Kentucky representative of the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. This month's preliminary estimate of the acreage of corn indicates a crop of about 96,170,000 bushels, the acreage being about the same as in 1919, while oats are estimated at 11,200,000 bushels, rye 672,000 bushels, barley 112,000 bushels, Irish potatoes 5,971,000 bushels and sweet potatoes 1,555,000 bushels.

This is an increase of 450,000 bushels over the June estimate of the Kentucky wheat crop, due to good filling of heads in many sections even though the acreage is greatly reduced from 1919 and there is much thin short wheat. The 1919 Kentucky wheat crop was 12,029,000 bushels and the 1919 tobacco crop in Kentucky 456,500,000 pounds. All these 1920 estimates are subject to change downward or upward as the season progresses, depending on favorable or unfavorable weather and other conditions hereafter.

These tobacco and corn estimates are the first of this season, and as planting of both crops was continued very late this year such estimates may be subject to great change either up or down before the end of the season. The tobacco acreage was increased considerably this year in the Central Kentucky burley district but was reduced greatly in the dark tobacco districts of Western Kentucky. As tobacco can be set in July and still make a good crop with a favorable season setting was continued very late in some places but the acreage shows a decrease of about 10 per cent over the State as a whole. Most of the burley belt, especially the rich Blue Grass counties, has a large increase of acreage.

Some hay is rank but very foul, especially with white-top, the average condition of all hay being 88 per cent, while pastures generally are good. Fruit is irregular, but generally a good crop, blackberries being unusually abundant. Apples are about 65 per cent of a full crop, peaches 75 per cent and pears 60 per cent. Melons generally are in fair condition.

DETACHMENT FROM CAMP TAYLOR HERE

Fifty men, detached from Camp Zachary Taylor, on recruiting service, arrived here yesterday where they will attend the Fair in an endeavor to enlist men for the army. The party is traveling in five of the large army trucks and several smaller cars. Part of the equipment to be used for advertising is a tank which will be dismounted and demonstrated at the Fair. Lieut. E. A. Snodgrass of the 18th Infantry, is in command of the detachment.

Somewhat Romantic

Nearly six years ago there came to Mt. Sterling a musician, Anthony Guerzerich, employed by a carnival company that became stranded in our city, a native of Trieste, Austria (now Italy). He did not know A from B in English. He was in our midst two days when he became sick and in order to make his wants known made all kinds of motions with hand language. The lady of the house where he was stopping thinking perhaps he might know some words in the German language brought into use what she had learned when a school girl, (German being one of the branches of study 50 years ago). Oh! how delighted was Tony, when to his surprise he felt a thrill of relief to know that he had now met true friends whom he cherishes as his Foster Father and Mother, as the years have passed his heart would throb for the sweetheart, Ernestina Brisack, that he left in Trieste. Two months ago he cabled money for her to come to America. She arrived in New York on July 15. On landing she went to the "Jewish Mission." She should have called at the "Italian Mission." She wired Tony that she was there. So Saturday evening she left for New York to meet his affianced. On arriving there, he learned that she had boarded the C. & O. train for Kentucky; then it occurred he must telegraph the foster father to go to the train and meet Ernestina. Mr. O'Connell having only a passing acquaintance, proceeded to the train to identify the lady. As the train pulled in the first lady passenger he saw proved to be the one he sought. To make sure, he passed into the Pullman car, with the permission of the affable conductor only to find she was not in there.

With just one minute to spare, he hastened to the day coach window, and introduced himself as her friend, bidding her welcome to his home, to await the arrival of her future husband, who came on the 4:35 train Tuesday. The couple were married yesterday morning by the Rev. Father B. J. Kolb. They will spend several days here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. O'Connell, going later to Danville to make their future home.

Bryan Nominated By Prohibitionists

Yesterday over his protest the prohibition party in convention, nominated Mr. Bryan as their presidential candidate. Leaders made vicious assaults on both parties and refused to consider any one as their standard bearer other than Mr. Bryan. They took a recess in order to confer with him and when the news came announcing he would not accept, the convention turned a deaf ear and every vote except six were registered for him. So enthused were the delegates that Miss Marie Brehm, of California, the first woman to be made chairman of a national party convention, relinquished the chair and placed Mr. Bryan's name before the convention. Seconds came from Nebraska, Florida, Missouri, Illinois, California, Wisconsin and Ohio, and when the vote was taken the result was as above stated.

The League of Nations would be adopted finally was the voice of the convention, which declared in a generalizing way for many reforms that would be for the uplift of the many, but made nothing very definite. Instead of a bold, defiant liquor power they hear the words "nuff," "nuff," but the party will not relent and will fight the "old serpent" until the sun goes down and there is no sign of life. The watchword is, "Our Mission Is Not Ended."

The last word from Mr. Bryan is through his brother Charles, saying Mr. Bryan's friends would oppose his accepting the nomination, but the convention waits for a personal answer from William Jennings himself.

A REAL VISION

Robert Walsh was here today attending the fair. Robert looks fine and is doing a most excellent business. During the conversation he used these words: Mt. Sterling, Winchester, Paris, Georgetown, Danville, Richmond and Lexington make one great city with just a little strip between them and this space grows smaller with good roads and increased automobile speed. Think of it, "we are getting a very nice patronage from all of these localities and autos convey the customers."

NO NEED TO GROW OLD (Indianapolis News.)

Don't grow old—or rather, though you grow old as far as years are concerned, do not get old otherwise.

It is easy to stay young, according to Dr. Louis R. Weizmiller, physical director of West Side Y. M. C. A. Havers that most people grow old because they cease doing young things, not because they need new glands.

"A man is young," said the doctor, "because he plays; he doesn't play because he is young. He is the product of his own actions. The old man who sits down after dinner, grouchy because the children make a noise, has already 'passed on.' He ought to be Osterized. All he is worth to the family is the pay check he brings home.

"But look at mother, who plays games with the children, sympathizes with them in their troubles and has a part in all they do. She remains flexible; she hasn't had time to grow old.

"It is dangerous for some men to retire from business. You know the kind who work at high tension for long years doing nothing but striving for money. They get it and then announce their retirement; a little later you read a nice obituary notice, saying what a success they had made. They hadn't.

"To keep young one must do young things. Don't be too dignified to play baseball, old cat, leap-frog, or other lively things which keep the muscles in trim. Have young associates and be a boy with them. Spend time each day studying to be young. Fish, hunt, golf, if you like it, and don't say quits the first time a muscle twinges; get into the game harder and go down to the gym to work out the ache, or play with the kids until you forget it.

"Take youth with you as you go toward old age. You can lead Father Time a merry race by thinking young, playing young, and keeping physically fit."

When two women happen to hate the same woman they are the closest of friends.

SEPTEMBER RAPE CROP SAVES TANKAGE COST

With tankage being worth approximately $120 a ton it will be highly profitable for the farmer to sow in corn a crop of rape which can be hogged down in September and the cost of feeding tankage largely offset. From the middle to the last of July is the time to sow rape to be hogged down in the fall.

Rape can be sown broadcast at the rate of eight pounds to the acre and covered with a small fourteen tooth cultivator. When hogs are turned in on green corn and rape the cost and use of tankage is reduced. When the crop of rape is sown after the middle of July there is much less danger of the destruction by plant lice which so often injure early sown rape.

Your wife may have her faults. But if it wasn't for her you would make a fool of yourself oftener than you do.

CONGRESS DID NOTHING

"The first Republican congress we have had since 1910 was the one that recently adjourned. The President was asked to urge it to remain in session, but he refused because it had not done anything but exploit its functions for political purposes during the year it had been in session. The Louisville Herald, Republican, correctly says the President "charged the Congress not only with wasting time, not only with incompetency, but with playing politics"; and very sensibly adds, "we do not propose to rush to its defense at this time." This Congress has proven itself the most expensive and the most worthless in perhaps twenty years. It has proved itself either incompetent or unwilling to do anything for the benefit of the people.

With a Republican majority in both houses, it has failed to repeal war legislation, failed to reduce taxes, failed to lower prices, failed to remedy the railroad situation, failed to relieve farmers, failed to take up the solution of any of the second economic or industrial problems confronting the people, thoroughly and ingloriously failed to do anything of permanent or constructive value, or that would recommend it to the confidence of the American people. There are none "to rush to its defense," none to regret its passing."

When a Republican paper like the Louisville Herald says in all sincerity "we do not propose to rush to the defense of the Republican Congress" for their sins of either omission or commission, then the great common people may sit up and take notice. It is a Republican Congress that the Republican presidential candidate is a part; either that or he is a dummy. For the acts of that congress there is no justification for what they failed to do or for what they did and the voting people will hold them to strict account by giving the presidency to James M. Cox, of Ohio.

FERTILIZERS FOR WHEAT

With 16 per cent acid phosphate costing more than $30, it becomes a question in the minds of some farmers as to whether or not it will pay to use this high priced phosphate on wheat. Prof. George Roberts, head of the Agronomy Department, of the College of Agriculture, gives the following results taken from the experimental fields. These records cover a period of from 4 to 6 years and were made on practically all types of soils outside of the Central Bluegrass. On untreated land that produced 8 bushels of wheat per acre he found that when 200 pounds of 16 per cent acid phosphate was applied it gave an increase of 41.2 bushels of wheat and where the ground was limed and fertilized with 200 pounds of 16 per cent acid phosphate gave an increase of 9 bushels. His experiments show that on unlimed soil raw ground rock phosphate has given as good or better results on the average than an equal investment in acid phosphate. This raw ground rock phosphate cannot be used in small quantities drilled at wheat sowing time; but it should be applied at the rate of 1000 to 2000 pounds broadcast and well mixed with the soil. When the price of acid phosphate becomes more than twice as much per ton as rock phosphate he believes the farmer may well consider the use of the latter, especially on unlimed soil.

His experiments show that in using acid phosphate, limestone increases its effectiveness and in most sections of the state other than in the Central Bluegrass region the effect of lime on the clover following the wheat will pay for an application of the lime. He believes that 150 pounds of 16 per cent acid phosphate or its equivalent in basic slag or steam bone meal, will be sufficient for wheat and that it will materially aid in giving a stand of grass and clover in the wheat. Lime should be applied at the rate of about two tons per acre; but his results show that when even as little as 1000 pounds are applied it is quite effective.

AUTHORITY GIVES FACTS ON CARE OF JARS

Miss Mary E. Sweeney, of the Department of Home Economics, College of Agriculture, says that in canning, points to be remembered about jars are: (1) The top must fit so tight that no air can enter; (2) Wrapping jars in paper prevents fruit and vegetables from fading; (3) For home canning jars are economical and desirable; (4) Select jars that seal perfectly and have wide mouths and protect food from touching metal; (5) Use old jars but get tops without leaks, breaks or corrosions.

These results would show that even with the high price of phosphates, wheat growers in other than the Central Bluegrass region of Kentucky cannot afford to leave off their use on wheat. In the Central Bluegrass region nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia used as top dressing in the spring should give an increased yield, whereas, in this region very little increase should be expected from the use of phosphates.

LAWYERS WIN BIG FEE

Robert G. Gordon, Hite Huffaker and James Garnett, special attorneys in the Bingham tax case, were awarded a verdict for $125,000, as a fee for their services by a jury of six men in the Jefferson county court, at Louisville, Friday. This is the largest verdict for attorneys' fees in any one case ever awarded in the state of Kentucky. The verdict was for the full amount asked by the plaintiffs in their petition which was filed about two months ago. The sum is subject to a ceiling of $10,000, which has already been paid them.

GERMANS TO PAY U. S. HALF BILLION

The share of the United States in the first twenty billion marks gold of reparation bonds which Germany is required to issue under the Versailles treaty will be about $500,000,000, it is stated. This sum, it was explained, will be for the first twenty months' occupation of the Rhineland by American troops.

LUCK

Much has been written and more said about 'luck and pluck,' the oddly assorted twins.

But it is true, strangely, that people place more emphasis on the friend 'luck' than they do on 'pluck.'

Observe carefully the parting words given anyone starting on an exploring expedition into the whys and wherefores of life. It is always: 'Good luck to you!' 'I wish you all the luck in the world!' Those are sweet words for the explorer, for they come from the bottom of the heart, and they carry the best of wishes and hopes. But nevertheless one will notice there is always that word 'luck' included. It is a characteristic of the people.

We often wonder how undertakers manage to become wealthy before automobiles were invented.

NOTHING ON HIM

A somewhat smart man, according to a story that is going the rounds, remarked to a farmer friend:

"Thursday we autoed to the country club and golfed till dark, then trolleyed back to town and danced till morning."

The farmer "got back" in this language:

"I've been havin' some time myself. Wednesday I muled down to the cornfield and geedawed till sundown. Then I suppered till dark and piped till nine. Then I bed-stended till five o'clock, then breakfasted till it was time to go mulin' again."

If you can bribe a fool to do a thing, just dare him to do and he'll do it all right.

A SON'S LETTER TO HIS FATHER DEAD 30 YEARS

(This letter appeared in Commerce and Finance, a New York publication, with the statement that it was designed to promote a better understanding between living father and their sons.) It reads:

Dear Dad:—

I am writing this to you, though you have been dead thirty years.

I feel I must say some things to you, things I didn't know when I was a boy in your house, and things I was too stupid to say.

It is only now, after passing through the long, hard school of years, only now when my own hair is gray, that I understand how you felt.

I must have been a bitter trial for you. I believed my own petty wisdom, and I know now how ridiculous it was, compared with that calm, wholesome wisdom of yours.

Most of all, I must confess my worst sin against you. It was the feeling that I had that you "did not understand."

When I look back over it now, I know that you did understand. You understood me better than I did myself. Your wisdom flowed around me like the ocean around an island.

And how patient you were with me! How full of long suffering and kindness!

And how pathetic, it now comes home to me, to win my confidence to be my pain.

I wouldn't let you. I couldn't. What was it that held me aloof? I didn't know. But it was tragic—that wall that rises between a boy and his father, and their frantic attempts to see through it and climb over it.

I wish you were here now, across the table from me, just for an hour, so that I could tell you how there's no wall any more. I understand you now, dad, and God, how I love you, and wish I could go back and be your boy again.

I know now how I could make you happy every day. I know how you felt.

It took a great many years for this prodigal son—and all sons are in a measure prodigal—to come to himself. I've come. I see it all now.

I know what a rich and priceless thing, and one least understood, is that mighty love and tenderness and craving to help which a father feels toward his boy. For I have a boy of my own.

And it is that he makes me want to go back to you, get down on my knees to you, and ask you to hear me, dad, and believe me.

RUMORED PRINCE MAY WED WASHINGTON GIRL

"Is His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, to confirm that which has long been whispered here, his engagement to a Washington girl?" is the question asked in a dispatch from Washington. If the engagement should be announced Lexington would be involved directly, for a former Lexington man is the stepfather of the possible future princess.

Whether the engagement is announced or not, Miss Margaret Simonds, with whom Prince Edward Albert danced when he visited Washington, and who also had the unusual distinction of receiving a personal call from the Prince and his suite, is now in England and will soon be presented at court by special request of His Royal Highness, it is said.

Miss Simonds is a member of a distinguished Charleston, S. C., family. She came to Washington about two years ago with her mother, Mrs. C. C. Calloun, who was married to Captain C. C. Calloun, formerly an attorney in Lexington, who has a wide acquaintance here. Miss Simonds is visiting with the Earl of Mar a relative on her mother's side.

Many a married man wonders why his wife puts in all her time trying to be disagreeable. Captain Calloun is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. He left Lexington about eight years ago and in recent years has been in government work in Washington.

An agent won't take a hint, but he may take something more important unless you are firm.
